

GORKA LASAOSA

Gorka Lasasa, Barcelona 1982, has an extensive career as a film, television and theater actor.

He is currently studying with scholarship the master's degree in film production at the Instituto del Cine de Madrid and has two series pending to be released as an actor: "Pollos sin cabeza" (Álex de la Iglesia/Pokeepsie films, HBO April 28) and "Coyotl" (Dopamine, HBO October 2023). This July he will start shooting a new project for Netflix with Álex de la Iglesia again.

In 2015 he founded his own theater company "Producciones Intemperie" with which he has produced and directed a dozen shows. From 2021 he also starts with the audiovisual production constituting as a company in January of this year. His first short film as co-director, co-producer and co-writer is "Pocos, buenos y seguros".

- Best direction Rivas Vacia Madrid Film Festival 2023
- Second prize of the jury Rivas Vacia Madrid Film Festival 2023
- Damatur Jury Award and Audience Award at SerielizadosFest 2022
- Best emerging producer (awarded by Producers Audiovisuals de Catalunya at the Filmets Badalona Festival) 2022
- Best Spanish production (Festival Filmets Badalona) 2022
- Best fiction short film (Cerdanya Filmfest) 2022
- Best original music (Madrid Film Festival) 2022
- Best Cinematography (Calahorra Film Festival) 2022
- Audience Award (Infecta Filmfest) 2022
- Nomination for Best Art Direction (Premis Fugaz) 2022
- Candidate for the Gaudí Awards 2023
- Preselection for the Goya Awards 2023